Presentation of Domaine Jocelyn Raoux estate

Jocelyn RAOUX Estate is located in the Rhone Valley, at 20 km from Avignon and Chateauneuf-du -Pape, in the small village of Lirac.

Heir to four generations of winegrowers, Jocelyn Raoux, after studying viticulture, oenology, trading and an enriching experience abroad, took over the family property in July 2015 and created his own cellar.

Today, the area of estate is 25 ha mainly in Crus LIRAC, 8 ha of which are devoted to the particular cellar for a production of Côtes du Rhône and LIRAC, in red, white and rosé.

Syrah, Grenache and very old carignans are the main grape varieties planted on clay soils with pounding stone or limestone white pebbles, typical of the Appellation Lirac terroirs and give powerful red wines to the dark dress and subtle aromas of red fruits.

These wines are vinified in a traditional way with long macerations of 20 to 30 days and controlled temperatures between 20° and 25°C according to the vintages and worked by winding and shedding.

Maturation is made for a part in barrel and for the other in tank inox or concrete.
